Chalk Talk

Bob Cobb

It was not too long ago that with a little revision the little saying about Bearcat athletics in general would have been valid. The little proverb goes like this, "First in war, first in peace, and last in the MIAA." We hope the Washington Senators will forgive the changing of their famous slogan.

This year the above stated quote is just about as wrong as snowballs in July. The Bearcat athletic program has been growing in success by leaps and bounds.

Year's Record

Briefly let's review this year's sports happenings. The Bearcat gridsters finished 5- and 4 in gridiron play and had several team members named to the MIAA all-star squad. And with some fine lettermen returning, look for even greater things for next season.

The wrestling team again enjoyed another banner season winning seven matches and dropping only three, while finishing second in the annual AAU wrestling tourney.

Varsity swimming became official and the Cat swimmers gave a good account for themselves just about every time out.

The Bearcat Basketball squad rocketed off to a fine start and copped second place in the MIAA Christmas Tournament. Although they tallied off towards the end of the season they had a fine 15-9 won-loss record and finished in a 4-way tie for the runner-up slot in conference play. Forward Jerry Meznarich was named to the MIAA All-Star team.

Spring Sports

In the field of tennis, John Bregin, Jack Freese and Co. continued to dominate as they have for the past three seasons.

Although the Cat tracksters have had trouble winning meets they have several outstanding individual event winners who gave our squad a good nucleus to build upon for next year.

The Bearcat baseball team with four games left, seems to have a real good chance to come in with a better than .500 season.

Here's a tip of the hat to the members of our coaching staffs!

Congratulations to net star John Bregin for his work against Jr. Davis Cupper Milner at the Graceland tennis meet!

All in all, we here at NWMSC have a right to boast about our final varsity and intramural sports programs. Next year should be even better!

Barrows Provides Interlude

Sunday, May 7, Mr. Floyd Barrows of the NWMSC Humanities Department renewed Maryville's acquaintance with Franz Listz.

In the playing of Listz, Barrows interrupted his weekly show, "Music of Nations" to help celebrate National Music Week, May 7 to 14. Sunday's show included the following selections: "Les Prelude," "Second Hungarian Rhapsody," and "Piano Concerto No. 1 in E flat Major."

Enjoyable Hour

Barrow's Sunday show presents an interesting and enlightening interruption when contrasted to some of the "music" that is played throughout the week on nearly all radio stations. This combined with the informative narrative supplied by Mr. Barrows makes this program a most worthwhile fifty minutes.

Perhaps the greatest spark of enjoyment this reporter has found in the program is the realization that he knows more really "good music" than supposed.

Barrows commenting after the show stated that there has been a great deal of interest in the program on the campus, but that he and other persons connected with the show would appreciate some requests, suggestions, and general comments.

In summation, anyone wishing an enjoyable hour of Sunday relaxation would do well to tune to station KNIM at 1:10 p.m.

They're Talking About . . .

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT. . . . The "privacy" of telephones in Residence Hall. . . . The third floor seance. . . . The wonderful fact that school is almost out. . . . Crazy mixed up finals. . . . The death of poor Peter the Rabbit, shame on the construction men. . . . Long nights due to projects. . . . The Frosh hall chick who is secretly pinned to "Ralphie". . . . The Four Townsmen. . . .

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT. . . . The Frosh Dorm party. . . . The round of last minute pop quizzes (barf.). . . . Spring house cleaning since all mommies were arriving in town. . . . THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT. . . . Little Rock, Ark.,—and the station there that comes in so terribly clear on the radio in the dorm every morning at 1 a.m. . . . and finally—fooy—foul—fatty—flat—fixed—flam—flimsy—the finals! ! !

Wesley Has Picnic

Wesley Foundation held a picnic supper Sunday, May 14, at 5 o'clock. Julia Williams and Mary Ann Miller were in charge of the event.

As the Stroller sat in his den of iniquity blankly staring at some crib notes in preparation for Professor Barf's final, the tunes floating forth from his low-fi made him think of highlights of the past year.

The "M" Club member daintly clodding by under his window brought back these homecoming tunes to the Strollers mind, "How High's the Water Mommie" and "I Dream of Tommie with the Light Bald Head."

Then before the water on the poor little frosh bodies evaporated, it turned to ice—and Christmas was upon us. The record player rejected and I'm Getting Nothing for Christmas" blared forth. This reminded him of the time he was stranded in the dorm and overheard his friend singing this lament. . . . he wondered, was she bragging or complaining? Then her noble Sammy Samsonite returned with a Christmas piece offering and ah yes, the Stroller can still hear him softly humming "There's No Place Like Home."

After Christmas melted and the semester broke, the Stroller found tears streaming down the faces of his poker deck as they realized as well as he that "Wedding Bells are Breaking Up that Old Gang of Ours."

And the Stroller cannot forget about the feat of Astronaut Shepard. He often wonders if Shepard while soaring above the roof of Residence Hall was reminded of one of his favorite songs, "Skinned Scales in the Sunset."

As the last record is playing "It's All Over Now" the Stroller thinks of the Northwest Missourian and Mr. Peel, the faculty advisor. Is it all over???? Ole Cauliflowers can hardly believe that the last issue is being put to bed and that his final column is almost ended. The Stroller smiles when considering how inexperienced he was when he first started with the paper. But that was soon corrected by an ambitious and cooperative advisor who is always desirous of improvement. The Stroller joins the entire news staff in saying hats off to our friend and boss—Mr. Donald F. Peel.
